Gail Johnson

Ms. Johnson is shown receiving her degree from Dr. Allison M. Frendak-Blume, academic director for the peace operations policy program at GMU.

Gail H. Johnson, of Gainesville, recently graduated with a master's degree in peace operations policy conferred by the School of Public Policy at George Mason University. The peace operations policy program combines academics, research, and practice with its faculty drawn from diverse backgrounds of working in the world's hot spots to improve the lives of people caught in the middle of conflict. Ms. Johnson's field work last summer included six weeks in locations throughout the Philippines and now coordinates relief work stateside for a remote elementary school in Negros Oriental province. In addition to her M.S. designation, Ms. Johnson earned a B.S. in business and a master's of education degree, and until recently operated A+ Academics, Inc. in Gainesville.

Gail and her family moved to Lake Manassas in 1996 where she served as the first appointed resident to the LM board of directors.

When you see us out walking, come out to say hi to Bella and 14-week old "Gus" our newest addition in Lake Manassas

Camp Rock

Nicole Cercy and Summer Pittman, made great music together as participants in Contemporary Music Center's 5th annual Rock Camp. This year's concert was held at The Hylton Center for the Arts.

Performing with their band Post Cards From Mars the girls shared their music to a sold out crowd. They covered challenging vocal songs from artist as diverse as, Fun, Mumford and Sons, The Beatles and The Rembrandts. Diana Cercy and Stephanie Cercy worked in helping design the new Rock Camp logo for CMC. It will look nice on the cover of Music Inc. Magazine.

Editor Zach Phillips came from Chicago to write a cover story on CMC's big yearly event. Congratulations to all.
